

Lash (Sorcerer 1)

(Christian Hagga)

Range: 10m

Duration: Instantaneous

Rarity: Uncommon in Krarth, rare elsewhere

The caster draws on otherworldly ectoplasm to form a dark, whip-like tendril, which immediately strikes out towards a single target. The tendril strikes with an ATTACK of 17, rolls d10 for Armour Bypass, and inflicts 1d6 +2 points of damage before dissipating into acrid-smelling mist. This spell is reputed to have originated in Krarth, centuries before the Blasting of Spyte; a way to enforce obedience in slaves and the lower classes.
